Problematic Dimensions within the Research on the Meaning in Life

Abstract: The paper explains further the naturalistic and expressivist approach to the human inquiry for a meaning in life. Some clarifications are then developed in this inquiry on the role of the truth, the reason, the belief and the requisite of the objectivity. In the following pages are offered also analyses on the connection between this inquiry and the morality and the religion.

Keywords: Meaning in life, Belief, Reason, Satisfaction, Religion, Fanaticism.
