The Disagreement about the Treatment of Animals and the Problem of Legitimacy

Abstract: The article focuses on the disagreement concerning the treatment of animals from the perspective of normative political theory. In particular, it discusses Federico Zuolo’s perspective on the matter in an attempt to test the limits of contemporary liberal theories of political legitimacy.

Keywords: Animal ethics, Disagreement, Political legitimacy, Public reason, Political theory.