Judicial Institutional Context, Scorekeeping, and Legal Reasoning

Abstract: Here I will briefly propose a reflection on a central but, in my opinion, dubious point of the inferentialist approach to legal reasoning proposed by Canale and developed in the volume “En busca de lo implícito” (Externado, 2020): the way in which the judicial institutional context is (re)constructed for the proposed model of legal reasoning regarding the judicial authority (§2), the participants (§3), and its scope (§4).

Keywords: Legal Reasoning, Judicial Reasoning, Inferentialism, Scorekeeping, Legal Authority.
