Woman' s Body between Self-ownership and the Right to Self-determination. A Problematic Relationship

Abstract: Focusing on the chapter Corpo della donna: autodeterminazione o eterodeterminazione? of F. Rescigno's book, Per un habeas corpus di "genere", this analysis addresses a need to further problematize women's self-determination with respect to reproductive choices. In light of this, the aim is to point out how controversial is both the process of qualifying the right to self-ownership and body, in the tension between individual interests and collective interests, and the relationship between agency and self-determination, if we do not consider the conditions within which women are free to choose.

Keywords: Right to self-ownership, Property, Women's bodies, Reproductive choices.
