Giulia Mezzetti

Centro Studi Politeia, Milan - Sciences Po, Paris

Giulia Mezzetti graduated cum laude in Political Philosophy at the University of Milan in 2010 with a thesis on citizenship, immigration and the transformations of democracy. After having worked in the Philosophy and Democracy Section at UNESCO, Paris, she is further specializing in migration studies and human rights during her Master's degree at Sciences Po, Paris. Her research interests are, on one hand, immigrant integration policies, and, on the other hand, the nexus between migration and development. She is currently collaborating with the Politeia Research Centre, Milan, to develop a research on migrations, brain drain and corporate social responsibility.
